NCC Group Europe's Danish entity accredited with Splunk Elite partner status.

NCC Group, a global leader in Managed Detection and Response, has had its Managed Services operations in Denmark and the Nordic Region recognised by Splunk who have granted the highest level of their partnership programme. The industry leading data analytics company, with its Data to Everything platform for searching, monitoring, and analysing information, has only awarded the 'Elite' status to two other Danish partners.

”The promotion to Elite partner has been driven by the rapid growth of our Managed Detection and Response (MDR) services” – says Anders Damm, Director of Managed MADR for the Nordic Region and Eastern Europe.

”We are extremely proud, that Splunk has bestowed us this recognition and thrilled that we can utilise the benefits the new partnership level incurs allowing us to strengthen our existing offering even further and helping us to make our customers more secure.”

Anders continues - ”As a pure-play cyber security firm, we are dedicated to offer managed security solutions, that are on the front foot of the cyber threats our customers face. With fantastic tools like Splunk at our disposal, our analysts can create even more in-depth detection logic and machine learning capabilities to strengthen our customers resilience against cyber-attacks”.
